What will it do for your office?

- Your medical office on-hold music and messaging will provide a caring, unhurried experience for your patients. It will relax them while it is used to educate callers about your available services, benefits, and experience.
- Generate more revenue for your office. Tell your callers about your upcoming events including office "open houses", talks, and more. Share with your patients about all the surgical and non-surgical offerings that are currently available.
- Reduce your no-shows. Use your on-hold solution to tell your clients about your cancellation policy and watch your no-shows decrease. This will reinforce the importance of keeping scheduled appointments and treatments.
- Educate your clients about lesser-known services such as injectable treatment options, nutrition counseling or allergy testing. Let your on-hold marketing system tell them about it!
- Answer common questions such as hours of operation or driving directions (thus saving your employees time!)
- Highlight new technology and up and coming treatment options. This is a captive audience! Who wouldn't want to hear about what's new?
- Use this as an opportunity to brag about the credentials of your doctors including board certifications, continuing education, and much more.
- Use your medical office on hold marketing system to tell your callers about your financing and payment methods
